rogram involves both clinical and surgical experiences. The program has been approved as a PMSR and is being reviewed to convert to the Rearfoot model during Fall of 2016. The program is also applying for an additional increase in the number of residents. All residents will rotate through the above institutions. Orthopedic program is available at Bellevue and Jacobi Hospital, New York City. Residents will be embedded with medical residents during the rotations. Weekly clinical & surgical lectures, and grand rounds are part of the resident's schedule.
